

What to bring

- Your completed application form.
- Medical certificate completed by your medical practitioner (if applicable, see the Medical certificate section on page 6).
- Your glasses or contact lenses if you wear them for driving.
- Evidence of identity (must be original - no photocopies).
You must provide either:
 - your New Zealand photo driver licence (which can be current or expired up to two years), or
 - your current New Zealand passport, or
 - another combination of acceptable evidence of identity documents* detailed on Factsheet 20: Identification for driver licensing or at www.nzta.govt.nz/identification.
*If neither document has a photo, you will also need to provide a verified image (see Factsheet 20 for more information).
- Evidence of name change (must be original - no photocopies).
If you want to change the name on your driver licence, or if the name on your identity documents isn't the same as the name on your licence, you'll need to provide acceptable evidence of name change. This must be an original (not a copy) of one of the following:
 - your marriage or civil union certificate
 - your dissolution of marriage or civil union order
 - a certificate of annulment
 - a deed poll certificate, change of name certificate, or birth certificate showing both names
 - a statutory declaration issued by Births, Deaths and Marriages confirming the name change.

Note: if your evidence of identity and name change documents don't provide a clear link to the name currently on your driver licence, you may need to provide additional documentation.
- Certificate of completion of course if you're applying for your endorsement for the first time.
- EFTPOS, credit card, cash or cheque for paying the fee.
To check the amount you'll pay go to www.nzta.govt.nz/licence-fees or call us on 0800 822 422.
- Foreign documentation if you're applying for a passenger endorsement and have been out of the country for more than 12 months.

ID card

If you drive a vehicle recovery service vehicle, or a small passenger service vehicle*, you'll need a driver identification (ID) card.

You must enter a unique identifier on this application form. This must be a combination of up to eight alphabetic characters arranged in a reasonably memorable combination. Your choice of unique identifier could be refused and another requested if judged not sufficiently memorable or distinguishable from other endorsement holders.

*Small passenger service vehicles are vehicles designed or adapted to carry 12 people or less - including the driver - that are operated in a passenger service. This means drivers of taxis, shuttles and limousines must display a driver ID card when plying for hire or parked at a designated stand or any other place while waiting for passengers.

If you drive only large passenger service vehicles (13 seats or more) an ID card is not required.

Who should use this form?

Use this form if you are applying for a:

- P Passenger endorsement
- V Vehicle recovery endorsement
- I Driving instructor endorsement
- O Testing officer endorsement

We encourage you to apply as early as possible, as your application can take up to 10 working days to process. If you give us your email address, we'll send you updates on your application status. We'll also email you a link so you can track your application's progress online.

P endorsement

If you're applying for a Passenger endorsement, please read Factsheet 42: P endorsements for carrying passengers before you make your application.

Fit and proper person check

The public expects to be safe and secure when using a passenger service such as a taxi, shuttle or bus, and these services often transport the young and vulnerable. To meet this expectation the law states that only people approved and licensed by the NZ Transport Agency may drive in a passenger service. For this to happen the Transport Agency must ensure each applicant is an appropriate (fit and proper) person to hold a P endorsement, which includes considering their full criminal history.

You can complete this application and a fit and proper person check before you complete the endorsement course if you wish.

Have you lived overseas?

Every P endorsement applicant will undergo an NZ Police check (vetting) as part of the fit and proper person check.

The Transport Agency will also need verified documents from the appropriate authorities in countries where you have spent any continuous period of more than 12 months.

- If you are applying for your first P endorsement, we need documents from any country where you have spent more than 12 months since you were 14 years old.
- If you are renewing or requalifying your P endorsement, we need documents from any country where you have spent more than 12 months since your last P endorsement application.

This ensures all applicants are assessed to the same standard and enables the Transport Agency to make the thoroughly informed assessment necessary before a P endorsement may be granted.

If you have any questions about having lived overseas please call us on 0800 822 422 before submitting this application.

Where to apply

Take your completed form and all original documents to any driver licensing agent. Go to www.nzta.govt.nz/agent to find an agent in your area.

A customer services representative will process your application, check your identification, and may take your photograph and a sample signature for your licence. They'll also check your eyesight and book an appointment for any driving tests.

You must pay the fee when you make your application.

Eyesight

You must prove that your eyesight meets the required standard.

To do this you can:

- present a satisfactory eyesight certificate issued by a New Zealand registered optometrist (this certificate must not be more than 60 days old)
- present a satisfactory medical certificate issued by a New Zealand registered medical practitioner (this certificate must not be more than 60 days old)
- pass an eyesight screening check at a driver licensing agent.

Note: the eyesight screening machines eliminate the need for many drivers to be tested by an optometrist or medical practitioner. However, if you don't pass this screening check then you must provide one of the above certificates before your new licence can be issued. Some drivers choose to provide a certificate instead of undertaking a screening check.

If you have sight in only one eye, or have only one eye (monocular vision) you must present an eyesight certificate from a doctor or optometrist.

Practical test

Useful information to help you prepare for and pass the practical tests is available in Factsheet 45 Learning to drive: Getting your car licence and in The official New Zealand road code.

The testing officer may attach a small video camera to the front windscreen at the beginning of your practical test. The camera records the test and enables the testing officer's performance to be audited. It also assists in investigating complaints where the test result is disputed. If you do not wish for your test to be recorded, please inform the testing officer.

Changing or cancelling

If you need to change or cancel your test please visit your driver licensing agent as soon as possible, or you can call 0800 822 422, Monday to Friday 8am to 6pm. You'll need to pay another fee.

Where there are two or more complete working days (excluding weekends and public holidays) between the day you change or cancel your test and the date of your appointment, you'll need to pay a rescheduling fee of $16.40. Where there are less than two complete working days (excluding weekends and public holidays) between the day you change or cancel your test and the date of your appointment, you won't pay a rescheduling fee but you'll pay a further test fee.

You may be eligible for a refund of the first test fee paid where the cancelled test time is taken by another person. If the test fee is refunded, a processing fee of $16.40 will be deducted. You can get an Application for refund of driver licence fee form (DL13) online at www.nzta.govt.nz/form-DL13.

Warning

It's an offence to supply false or misleading information and may lead to court action. The consequences can include losing your licence and/or paying a fine.

If you don't supply all relevant information, your application may be delayed or declined.

More information

Your driver licensing agent has a range of factsheets which give more information on a wide range of driver licensing topics.

Our forms and factsheets provide useful, common-sense advice and information in a concise format. They can't cover all aspects of a topic and should not be used instead of authoritative legal advice or legal documents.
